Does Tech Nation Require Referees for a Digital Technology Endorsement?

You will need to provide Tech Nation with 3 letters of recommendation in support of your digital technology endorsement application.

The letters of recommendation must be from 3 different well-established organisations acknowledged as experts in the digital technology field.

The signatories must be familiar with your work and contribution to the digital technology sector. They must be a senior member of their organisation. They will need to describe how they know you, your achievements in your specialist field, how you exhibit exceptional talent or exceptional promise, the contribution you will make to the UK digital technology sector, your future plans, and the benefit you would receive from living in the UK. (<https://www.google.co.uk/search?q=richmond+chambers+in>)

Is It Necessary to Have Established a Digital Technology Business?

Whilst a proven track record of innovation, or significant technical, commercial or entrepreneurial contributions, in the digital technology sector as a founder or senior executive of a product-led digital technology company can be relied upon in support of an application for a Tech Nation endorsement, it is not mandatory to have been a senior executive or founder of a digital technology sector company.

Employees working on a new digital field or concept, employees who have made significant technical, commercial or entrepreneurial contributions to the field and employees who have done work outside their immediate occupation that has contributed to the advancement of the sector can also secure an endorsement from Tech Nation.

Academics who have shown exceptional ability in the digital technology field through research published or endorsed by an expert can also be endorsed by Tech Nation.

What Factors Will Tech Nation Take Into Consideration When Considering a Digital Technology Endorsement Application?

When assessing applicants, Tech Nation will take into account the following factors:

1. Your track record/career history (including your international standing, the significance of your work and the impact of your activity in a company or as an individual);
2. The strength of the supporting statements in the letters of personal recommendation, and evidence in relation to qualifying criteria;
3. The expected benefits of your presence in the UK in terms of the contribution to the UK digital technology sector;
4. Factors including but not limited to, your academic track record and salary level if employed, the company you are being hired by if an employee or the amount of money raised if an entrepreneur;
5. The commercial impact of your previous work, achievements and experiences.
